

Propylon Again Named to Deloitte Technology Fast 50

Dublin, Ireland – October 30, 2007

Propylon, the world leader in legislative software and services, has been named once again to the 2007 Deloitte Technology Fast 50, a ranking of the fifty fastest growing technology companies in Ireland. Fifty honorees were recognized for achieving an average annual growth rate of 497%.

This is the fourth time that Propylon has been recognized by Deloitte & Touche for its growth in the Irish technology sector. Propylon's Chief Executive Officer Paul McKeon observed, "Many of the Fast 50 honorees are providing business-to-consumer products, a market offering more immediate growth. Alternatively, we provide enterprise solutions that culminate over much longer periods, yet we clearly remain competitive across all technology markets. Our strategic pace in 2007 has proved the right choice for consistent, responsible growth."

The awards took place on Friday, October 19, at the Mansion House, the official residence of the Lord Mayor of Dublin. Announcing the winners of the Technology Fast 50 programme, David O'Flanagan, Partner with Deloitte, Dublin said: "This year's ranking was one of the closest that we have seen in the eight years of the competition to date. Many of the companies have demonstrated continuing growth, evidenced by their presence in the Fast 50 rankings year on year."
